TESTIMONIALS

'We've worked with Echo Your Sport on a few film and photo projects helping to promote sport in London and they've been fantastic to work with end to end. Their costs are very reasonable and often undercut big agencies and freelancers, yet, the quality of the final product isn't compromised. It's also a pleasure to work with an organisation that has similar aspirations to your own. We look forward to working with Echo Your Sport again in future.'

Marketing and Communications Team

'I was keen to partner with Echo your Sport to maximise our social impact and ensuring we are supporting young people across every level of our organisation, including those we commission. They were professional to work with, and produced a high quality film for us.'

Anne-Marie Douglas, CEO and Founder

'My colleagues and I have worked with Echo Your Sport for over three years. They have produced excellent pieces of work and evidenced a great ability to connect with our clients. I am focused on continuing our working relationship which is testament to their high level of professionalism and commitment to providing high quality services.'

Lajaune Lincoln, Head of Young People Services

On behalf of Art4Space I would highly recommend working with Charles Adeyemi. We have completed several art projects with Echo your Sport and the sessions were extremely well organised and involved every child and young person expressing their creative ideas. They developed a team spirit through working together and were supported through the opportunity to express their emotions and thoughts. I have found Charles and his team to be very professional and dedicated to producing the best results. The participants were constantly encouraged and developed great pride in their work. It gave them all the real experience of working with new mediums and a sense of pride and ownership for all. We look forward to further project partnerships in the future as Charles is always an inspiration.'
